

The Disciplined Starter Kit

7 rules that protect your capital, plus a 1-week beginner training split.

This free guide gives you the two things that matter most on day one: how to not blow up your trading account, and how to start training without guessing. Read it in ten minutes, use it today.

Part 1 — 7 rules that protect your capital

- Risk no more than 1% of your account on any single trade. This one rule keeps you in the game.
- Always know your exit before you enter. If you cannot name your stop-loss price, you do not have a trade — you have a hope.
- Aim for at least 2x reward for every 1x risk. With a 1:2 ratio you can be wrong more often than right and still profit.
- Trade with the trend. Do not try to catch a falling knife because it "looks cheap".
- No trade is also a position. Sideways, unclear markets are where accounts quietly bleed.
- After a loss, step away for 30 minutes. Revenge trading has ended more accounts than bad analysis.
- Journal every single trade. What gets measured gets improved — the pattern in your losses is your tuition.

THE POSITION SIZE FORMULA

Shares = (Account × 1%) ÷ (Entry - Stop). Example: $10,000 account, entry $100, stop $97 -> risk per share $3 -> buy 33 shares. Use the free calculator on our website to do this instantly.

Part 2 — Your first week of training

Three sessions, full body, roughly 40 minutes each. Rest a day between sessions. If an exercise is too hard, do the easier version — showing up beats being impressive.

Day 1 — Full body

- Goblet squat — 3 x 10
- Push-ups (or knee push-ups) — 3 x 8
- One-arm dumbbell row — 3 x 10 each
- Plank — 3 x 30 seconds

Day 2 — Rest / walk

- 20–30 minute walk. That is the whole session.

Day 3 — Full body

- Romanian deadlift — 3 x 10
- Dumbbell shoulder press — 3 x 10
- Glute bridge — 3 x 12
- Dead-bug — 3 x 10 each side

Day 4 — Rest / walk

- 20–30 minute walk.

Day 5 — Full body

- Squat — 3 x 10
- Incline push-ups — 3 x 10
- Lat pulldown or assisted pull-up — 3 x 10
- Side plank — 2 x 20s each side

Days 6–7 — Active recovery

- Walk, stretch, or play a sport you enjoy. Sleep 7–8 hours.

The one nutrition rule for week one

Do not overhaul everything. Just add a protein source to every meal (eggs, chicken, fish, paneer, tofu, dal, Greek yogurt) and drink water before you snack. That alone moves the needle more than any complicated diet.
